Trends in Integrated Reporting That Support Sustainable Growth in Japan 2025

In Japan, the number of companies and other organizations that issued integrated reports in 2025 continued to gradually increase, reaching 1,225 entities. Among these, 1,134 were listed companies. Even though integrated reports are not mandatory, each year we are seeing a growing number of companies producing such reports for the first time. Since 2020, the number of issuing entities has been increasing by more than 100 each year; however, this growth slowed somewhat in 2025. This slowdown can be attributed in part to a decline in newly issuing companies, as well as a greater number of companies that are presumed to have ceased issuance due to delisting.

In 2025, the Nikkei Stock Average (Nikkei 225) exceeded ¥50,000 for the first time, reflecting robust market conditions, while ongoing market reforms further strengthened expectations for management that is conscious of cost of capital and stock price. In addition to the Tokyo Stock Exchange's Prime Market, stricter listing standards in the Growth Market and reforms in the Standard Market are expected to progress, further heightening the need for companies to adopt management practices with a stronger focus on investor perspectives. Constructive engagement with investors requires both disclosure and engagement, with disclosure serving as the essential first step and the foundation for meaningful exchange. These market reforms have driven the issuance of new integrated reports and the ongoing enhancement of their content.

Integrated reports were first created as a tool for engagement with shareholders and other investors and have since become widely adopted. In recent years, the types of entities issuing integrated reports have expanded beyond listed companies to include non-listed companies, universities, and even local governments, such as the municipal government of Setouchi City, in Okayama Prefecture. Integrated reports are no longer used solely as an IR tool; they are increasingly being leveraged as a framework for communicating organizational value to a wide range of stakeholders and for building trust with them.

This survey is utilized by a diverse range of stakeholders, including institutional investors, auditing firms, government agencies, and academia. We are committed to continuing these surveys to contribute to the advancement of transparent corporate reporting, with a primary focus on integrated reporting.

List of Organizations in Japan Engaged in the Publication of Self-Declared Integrated Reports (2025)

As of December 31, 2025

Self-declared integrated reports are categorized as such by the Corporate Value Reporting Lab under two conditions: when a report states that it is an integrated report in its editorial policy or elsewhere or when a report contains comprehensive financial and non-financial information as well as reporting on corporate value creation and other matters that reflect deliberate integrated reporting.

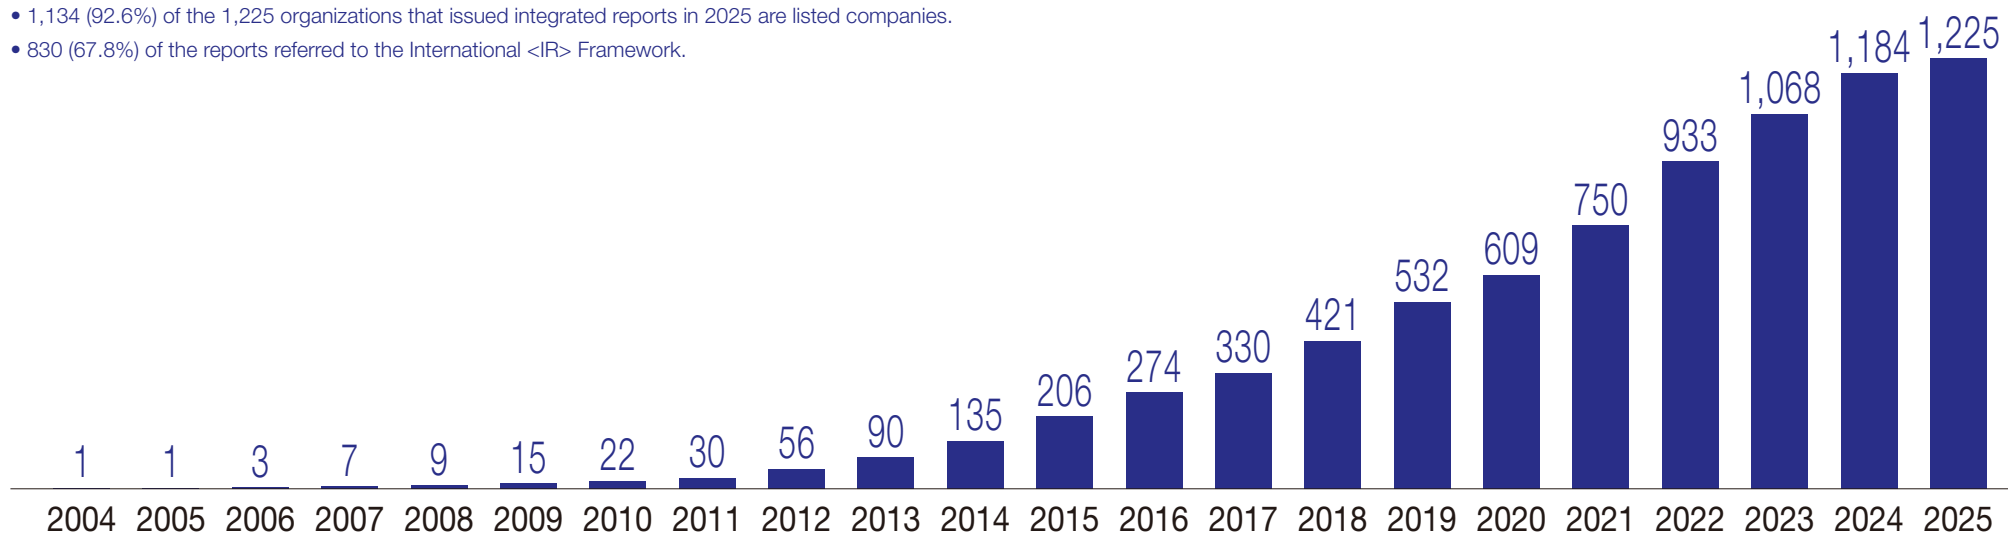

The Excel data for this survey (related to issuance by each company over time) is available only to institutional investors and individuals affiliated with organizations such as academic and research institutions for non-profit research purposes.

Note: The Corporate Value Reporting Lab replaced the ESG Communication Forum in October 2015.

Trend in the Number of Organizations in Japan Engaged in the Publication of Self-Declared Integrated Reports

Data for Reference

- 1,134 (92.6%) of the 1,225 organizations that issued integrated reports in 2025 are listed companies.
- 830 (67.8%) of the reports referred to the International <IR> Framework.

Note: When a report states in its editorial policy or elsewhere that it is an integrated report, or if a report contains comprehensive financial and non-financial information while also containing language that implies that the report was prepared with considerations made for integrated reporting (pertaining to corporate value creation or otherwise), the report is counted as a self-declared integrated report.

This survey is based on listed companies, with non-listed companies and other corporations and entities also included. In principle, this survey counts the number of organizations that published a report for each calendar year based on the date of publication and covers reports published annually. Should we receive no negative criticism regarding this method, we will continue to employ it going forward. Specification of the year that a company switched to integrated reporting is based on this method. If two reports were published during the survey period, only the most recent version is listed in the list of report names. From 2025 onward, AI will be utilized to identify newly issuing companies.
